

GLOSSY Gay Travel

Glossy Gay Travel's mission is to provide small group adventure travel opportunities for gay and lesbian community, and to promote understanding and acceptance through interaction with fellow travellers and other cultures around the world.

From this portal you can enter the world of group travels with scheduled departures, made by travellers in a group with a coordinator, using the original formula of adventure, which provides self-management and participation. A real trip with friends that excludes the figure of the “customer”.

Self-management and lack of guided and escorted tour allow you two huge advantages: flexibility and savings. As well self-management entails the involvement of each participant in the organization of the travels. This philosophy allows you to avoid the channels great tourism organized and integrated in the reality of the countries you go to visit.

The Coordinator

The coordinator is a participant like you who travel for pleasure and interest. He is not a guide and not for him the task of illustrating the monuments, sites and museums visited (there are local guides or good books to be consulted) and not the cause of the problems encountered during the trip. He is only responsible for coordinating joint activities. Negative attitude to prejudice and inexperience, not contributes nothing to improve the journey.

Life group:

Each group represents a small community of nomadic, self-governing, democratic and united. You are preparing to live an intense experience, a human adventure, with people you just met, certain experts, others converted to the size of the group after years of travelling solitary, others their first experience. You'll discover the charm of sharing emotions and difficulties, friendship and maybe even some small disagreement. Certainly the group life involves real sacrifices, but it certainly represents an extraordinary opportunity meeting in a remote and challenging reality. Many years of experience have taught us that the success of a travel depends also, and especially the harmony that is created between the participants. So be available and open in respect your fellow adventure, are able to assess their merits, enduring sometimes defects.

Travel by car Hire (participants take turns driving):

The participants agree to alternate the driving of vehicles only if able to drive vehicles with obvious competence booked (sedans, minibuses car 4x4). The participant who signs up for a trip that requires driving, if without a license or not able to drive that information prior to departure, the coordinator and Glossy Gay Travel. The participant notes the specific rules already 'signed in the "Conditions of participation travel ":

- That the insurance for the rental of vehicles could be a franchise should be eliminated.
- That the car rental company requires a guarantee at the time of the withdrawal of passenger cars with credit card a participant to cover the obligations under the contract, the participants without a credit card must inform the coordinator and Glossy Gay Travel before departure.

and then undertakes:

- To be fully united and jointly responsible with all the fellow travellers in case of additional costs charged by the big rental car companies for damage to the media, theft, fines for breaches of road traffic etc..., regardless of the fact that at the time of the harm or wrongdoing is found on half or less damaged or fined, or another means being part of the group.
- With respect to fellow travellers who have guaranteed with your credit card, to pay them share of the costs that the big rental car companies were charged.
- To settle in transit at the very moment when the payment is made in expenditure, its share of relevance is determined by common agreement on the basis of equal division of the total expenditure in issue among all participants in the trip.
- - Participants who get to drive the hired vehicle are covered by insurance policies Glossy Gay Travel for damages caused to third parties including transport.

Self-selection

We have invited every way to a severe self-selection. If only now or in the course of the journey you discover that you wrong trip, did not understand well the spirit of our formula, does not react the wrong way, try to adapt to group living, coexistence, promiscuity 'and you will see that all the fellow travellers will help you to discover a new human dimension, new relationships within a community 'who travels and who moves out of any set ideas and away from false conventions.

But are you sure you know where you're going? Which means you will travel? What you are going to see and discover? Which reality 'you are to live? If you have not documented that minimum necessary to meet positively to these questions, accept an advice: do not highlight too much with negative attitudes. ... let safely transported and trust of your fellow travellers.

The observance of the laws, customs, the culture of our host countries

Since the first trips we approached the other, his cultural world, its environment, with the greatest respect, not We have never claimed anything more than what was offered to us, we are immersed in the reality of 'sharing their difficulties' and risks. We always presented as travellers and tourists as ever, unconscious instruments of a dramatic and irreversible pollution.

E 'duty to inform you about the people, culture, traditions, religion, history, the environment of the country visited, not to take offensive behaviour of local traditions and customs and not expect special treatment.

Appassionatamente... Have a nice journey!
